Obtained admission for a master's program will be accepted as long as it was granted only by the German Jordanian University from one of the programs listed on page no. 4 of this document.

I. Selection Process

The selection process consists of two rounds:

A. Round 1: Initial Application Screening

After the scholarship application deadline, an initial eligibility screening will be conducted to ensure that the applications meet all the pre-determined requirements. Following the screening, interview appointments will be scheduled and sent to eligible applicants. Priority will be given to students with higher GPAs and with IELTS or TOEFL results during this process.

B. Round 2: Interview

The Scholarship Selection Committee will conduct the Interview Round using a blend of Arabic and English for each candidate face-to-face if circumstances permit.

Each applicant will be scored based on their performance during the interview.

After passing the Interview Round, candidates who have not had a letter of admission from any targeted universities, DAAD will apply for them to be admitted in the targeted university/field of study master's program of their choice (for the supported fields please check pages (5-9) of this document.

Note: Applicants who have already obtained an admission offer from a targeted university to study one of the supported fields do need to continue the application process along with submitting the required documents.

All applicants to the Scholarship Program will be notified of results before the start of the first semester 25/26.

C. Selection Criteria:

The application and selection process of EDU-SYRIA IV Graduate Studies program is open, competitive, transparent, and free of charge. Members of the Selection Committee are prominent professors in various fields of science and technology and humanities. Applicants do not need to pay any fees to anyone in order to apply for the scholarship. Scholarship recipients are selected based on vulnerability, individual merit, including academic performance in addition to their English proficiency, preparation, intellectual capability, potential, courage/resilience, and commitment to contribute to the development of humanity, science, and technology which will be assessed during the interview phase.

D. Scholarship Conditions
